Can i just be something Somewhere in your room
But you wont notice
Maybe ill be paper
Or books thrown on your floor Move me when you want to I'll lay where you put me
In your VCR
If i become a cassette
Or on top of your computer
If thats where i would fit
Then so be it
But things cant be perfect
All the time
That i know
Sometimes we just have to let some things go
I will not say one word Ill just hang around I wont annoy you at all
When you move out ill stay Until im thrown away

But then it wont matter

Things cant be perfect
All the time

That i know

because

things cant be perfect

that i know

i promise to stop now

to stop now

things cant be perfect

that i know

letting go is my life

ill be on my way
