Believe the news I'm gone for good, call off the search
No one will know that I am down here
And believe the note I left for you
You can't turn back the clocks
You can't pull me up from here so don't try

In a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

I'm in a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

Make time slower, give me longer, it's too late for me
No one will know that I'm down here
And believe your dreams of me sinking so far below
You can't pull me up from here so don't try

In a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

I'm in a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

Leave it up to me to burden you again
This was not your fault, please forgive me
Leave it up to me to burden you again
This was not your fault, so forget, so forget, so forget me

Don't think back, don't think back on me at all
Just let me go
Don't think back, don't think back on me at all
Just let me go

Don't think back, don't think back on me at all
Don't think back, don't think back on me at all
Don't think back, don't think back on me at all

I'm in a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

I'm in a car underwater with time to kill
Thinking back I forgot to tell you this
I didn't care that you left and abandoned me
What hurts more is I would still die for you

I would still die for you
I would still die for you
I would still die for you
I would still die for you
And I would still die for you
