Tidal waves are gonna swallow your town alive
Terrorists are gonna poison all our skies
Bodies are gonna wash up on the beach
Hell is gonna bring your parents to their knees

You escape, I'll stay
I'm so tired of running away

I wanna stay at home for the end of the world
Falling asleep when they're dropping the bomb
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying

I wanna stay at home for the end of the world
Falling asleep when they're dropping the bomb
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying

Pack all your bags and lock all your doors behind
Clear out the cities and pray for your little lives
You've all escaped, I've stayed
I'm so tired of running away

I wanna stay at home for the end of the world
Falling asleep when they're dropping the bomb
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying

I wanna stay at home for the end of the world
Falling asleep when they're dropping the bomb
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying

Everything around you is gonna turn into
The biggest pile of ashes that you could ever imagine
Gonna turn into the biggest pile of nothingness
So keep on running, keep on running

I wanna stay at home for the end of the world
Falling asleep when they're dropping the bomb
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying

I wanna stay at home
I wanna stay at home
I wanna stay at home
I wanna stay at home

This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying
This is all a dream
That's what I'll be saying
