

Swell Season, The

"The Rain"

Visit "The Rain" on MotoLyrics.com

Just before the rain came down the sun came out at last
And as for all assumptions made and questions never asked

I know we're not where I promised you we'd be by now
But maybe it's a question of who'd want it anyhow

Even now the rainbow's end seem closer to your hand
And isn't knowing when to stop the measure of the man
Okay

We're not what I promised you we would become But maybe it's a question of how much you'd really want

Have you had enough
Had enough
There's plenty more where that came from now

Are you feeling bought
Swallowed up
We got hours on you now

Just before the rain came down the sun came out at last
And as for all assumptions made and questions never
asked

Okay
I'm not what I promised you I would become
I know we're not what I promised you we'd be by now

Have you had enough
Had enough
There's plenty more where that came from now

Are you feeling bought
Swallowed up
We got hours on you now

Still on top
Crawling up
We got hours on you now

