You shouldn't be the one to turn against me
You shouldn't be the one trying to hurt me
When you were down on your knee
I was the one who pulled you out the line
And let you know what is right

Now you have turned against me
But I know it won't be long before you come running back to me
But I won't hear your plea anymore

When you were down on your knee
I was the one who took you out the line
And let you know what is right
And now you have turned against me
But I know it won't be long before you come running
back to me
But I know it won't be long before you come running
back to me
But I know it won't be long before you come running back to me...
