[featuring Julia Gray]

laughing eyes stare back in time let me become one with you as dusk slowly unwinds do lightingbugs scare you as they dance and they light up the sky mark yourself quickly so you'll stay in the light when you die

oooooh (2x)

and you've felt the pain of love too and you called it lacrymose too aaaaah (3x)

inhale now, good hold it deep now surrender yourself to the night lend me a dream so that I may sleep only some bees die after their bite and we write with ink that stains our hands and we learn from the things that we can't understand see on my lefthand two silver rings entwine if you give me your love through music then I'll give you mine

oooooh (2x)

and you've felt the pain of love too
and you called it lacrymose too
