Since the celestial fall
In the dark light they stand
A memorial of forgotten gods
The Empire of the Sands
Since the galactic blow
In the cold night they stand
High and mighty they call
The Empire of the Sands

Forgotten lands of waste
Now cast to oblivion
Hidden in the dust
Of timeless religions

Time goes by and still
Kings rise and fall
Since the dawn of time
To the very last call

In the dark light they stand
In the cold night they stand

And our memory fades
Like dust in the shade
Our kingdom once ruled
Turns to sand in our hands
