Astronaut is my job, always on the air
This is what I care for, I've got to get there
There's no other way to get myself together
Each and every single day I'm feeling better
Sometimes I feel lonesome, I don't really care
One more mission

How to tell you people, it would blow your mind
Outer space is a wall, emptiness behind
Sliding in a soundless motion, I hold my breath
Will I see the Earth again, I'm facing my death
I'm a crazy person I don't really care
One more mission

No hope, I'm afraid
I know I can't be saved
No peace in my mind
Till I find what is behind
Just one more mission

My ship is my prison, wandering in the air
Don't know which dimension, I've never been there
Empty, lonely, endless days since I left my base
Will I find the passage back or will I erase
Seems like I'm a loser, I don't really care
One more mission

No hope, I'm afraid
I know I won't be saved
No peace in my mind
Till I find what is behind
Just one more mission
