Wait a minute honey I don't think the joke's so too funny,

No I stayed up all night

Checking out the doctor's guide

Wait a minute honey stop pretending you're a bunny

Well I might've guessed --you been to see a specialist.

I remember you said

That we gotta keep a breast of time

But obviously you don't know where to draw the line, well Don't try to tell me it's a-what you been eating Since when have you been forty-four around (get on with the song, yeah)

Dig this, at the Moulin Rouge tell you baby,

we could knock'em dead

Just sign right here all I need is ten per cent.

Well, now you make me feel like a pimp in the White House

For a senator's daughter you're stealing all the headline news, all the headline news.

Oh shake me, shake me, shake me up all night long

We all need a laugh and I guess you're just the one

Well you got more front than Haig Museum

Oh home-grown silicone you really got the best of me

You got the best of me
