Prozac- I think Socrates said it best, when he said, yo what the hell did I just drink

[Prozac]

As you sit there listenin to this foreign legion record your chillin but somebody somewhere else just blew their brains out on the ceiling someone else just made their first million dealing cocaine somebody somewhere else is making love out in the rain at the same time I spit this rhyme someone is dissin me someone just got HIV losing their virginity someone else is giving me props on how I rock mics (meanwhile)
Britain is abusing human rights someone saw the lighted guide and now they think their saved someone just sold their only child to be a slave someone's taking shelter in a cave while others bath in solid gold bath tubs, someone else is on their nuts whats strange to me is all this happens simultaneously somebody wins the lottery someone lost their fortune someone's parents died on they're an orphan someone else is boarding a plain that's gonna crash into the ocean someone just got caught doing strange things with lotion someone got adopted someone else got an abortion someone's staring down into a coffin at their mother someone's propositioning a cop who's undercover someone's with their secret lover putting on a rubber someone got a job because their color not they skill someone just got killed over a twenty dollar bill someone's taking money from their child to buy a rock someone said they'd keep it real but now they're going pop food for thought and you don't quit don't stop different situation same second on the clock it all takes place while this mic is getting rocked
