Who are we?
What have we become?
All smoke and mirrors?
Animals, cannibals turning, one more believer.
Your head is hollow.
You're meant to follow.
The dream machine is spinning round and round.
You're like the father, all mighty dollar.

Everything you want, you got it coming to you.
Here in the wild kingdom, the centre of the universe.
Right behind the velvet curtain, it's a never ending
circus.
It's the greatest show on earth.

Sliding doors, turncoat wars and your eyes fall from their sockets.
Aerosol, Barbie dolls dancing, hands in your pocket.
I am going somewhere and getting nowhere.
Reality is telling me to lay down.
By human nature, bigger is better.

Everything you want, you got it coming to you.
Here in the wild kingdom, the centre of the universe.
Right behind the velvet curtain, it's a never ending
circus.
It's the greatest show on earth.

Soloish part

Here in the wild kingdom, the centre of the universe.
Right behind the velvet curtain, it's a never ending
circus.
It's the greatest show on earth.
