Turn off the lights; pull the sheets down tight,
We're being watched by satellite.
Put my ring under loose floorboards,
They can't know my life before.
Every lie I have ever said to you was just a wish.
You have to understand I didn't think it'd come to this.

Change in the weather,
Gone forever;
You won't understand.
If you never think of me again,
Just remember when the leaves on the trees start to
fall.

Cover me like I cover you and I swear that we'll get through.
This is what you have to do when the questions turn to you.
If I can I'll send for you, if I can't don't look for me.
I live in a place I hope you'll never have to see.

Change in the weather,
Gone forever;
You won't understand.
If you never think of me again,
Just remember when the leaves on the trees start to
fall.

It's not fair, but I'm not scared, I'm just not ready to die.
Please know I love you and I try.

Change in the weather,
Gone forever;
You won't understand.
If you never think of me again,
Just remember when...
If you never think of me again,
Just remember when the leaves on the trees start to
fall.
