

100th And May "Dancing For Dreams"

Im not ashamed of
Anything that youve ever done
In fact I realize
That its me youve been running from
The voices, the choices
Everything Ive done to keep you here
Is worthless, I know this
That letting go is your greatest fear
And you are safer
When I awake from my sleep
Im finally dancing for dreams
And now that you are free do
Do you cry to sleep at night
I wont be there to wipe your eyes

To think I could stop time
Id do better to out shine the stars
Cause one day youll need me
But I wont be right there where you are
I wonder if its her
That keeps this fairy tale alive
Cause sometimes later at night
I feel the tear that comes from her eyes
I wont run away no I wont run away from you
Ill find a way, I will find a way to you
