When you look back on the best night of your life will you remember the things you were wearing? / The car you arrived in? / The beer you were drinking? / No you'll consider the friends you were with and the experience itself

So I say throw it all in the fire / Gain control by letting go / Forget what you want / Live at peace with your home, evolve!

When you look back on what you've accomplished don't you hope to have gained something more than material? / A two week vacation? / A story with no moral? / I'd rather look back and believe I'd made a difference / Maybe not to you, maybe nobody's listening

We still haven't found our way...

So I say throw it all in the fire / Gain control by letting
home, evolve!

Just hoping I might change somebody's mind, first I'll openly admit it's the blind leading the blind / Just hoping I might change somebody's mind, first I'll openly admit it's the blind leading the blind / That's why I'm still standing here! / That's why I'm still waiting!
