Little girl with the lights down, and he's gone
You've been here before
And you breathe deep
And you cry to sleep
But you didn't break
You've done it all before

Little girl, she's a rebel
And we know
'cause we did it all before
And she runs wild
And she comes to hide
With her pride
Like before

Once bitten, twice shy
Can you look me in the eye?

She just has to look at me
She did it all before
She knows how to melt me, like before

Little girls to little women
Out on your own again
You did it all before
And she sets them free
And she pulls them in
Under the wing
Like before

Once bitten, twice shy
Can you look me in the eye?

She just has to look at me
She did it all before
She knows how to melt me, like before
And she means everything, to me
She knows how to melt me, like before

She
She

She knows how to melt me, like before
Like before
