woke up next to you this morning, and it seemed that without warning, i fell in love with you again.
and when i leave your house today, i wish that i could find a way, so i could stay.
so i'll just think of that night, when everything seemed right, you held me in your arms all night long.
i listened to you breathe,
i didn't want to leave, so instead i guess i'll write this song.
it seems like this was meant to be, whenever you spend time with me.

i wish you'd open your eyes, then maybe you'd see, just how much you really mean to me. so now i'll think of all the stupid things i do, the way i feel messed up whenever i see you, the way i feel inside, emotions i can't hide, i hope things always stay this way.
and now i promise you,
there's nothing i won't do,
you know that i'll always love you.
and now i promise you,
there's nothing i won't do,
you know that i'll always love you.
