How close did i come?
perhaps i'll never know the journey is so long i wonder where it goes the clock is ticking down until my car explodes
the bacon now is frying 7 cm from my nose

will i make it in time?
will it my life?
driving down this similar road the half-connected story told of things that can happen on the way

But obviously not today

How close did i get?
to where i wanted to be
was i nearly there or did my windscreen decieve me apparently you can get cars that can invent a landscape on the screen in front of you until you make the mistake of trying to be what you blatantly aren't maybe next August i'll see.....
