"Fade Away"

The world's on fire
we're just a single flame you've emptied your arms just to hold memories

Layin in fear
with a dusty picture frame shedding a tear as your life is fading away, fading away fading away

walking the city the street to meet an old friend
she looks so different but still have the eyes of a kid shedding a tear she says that life is fading away she held a picture of me in a dusty picture frame and it faded away

faded away

close your eyes
i'll cover mine
maybe we will find that these moments join to make our memories but i know memories live (inside inside)? the days that
fade away
so don't you turn around what we've lost may never be found so don't you turn around somehow i know i know
it'll fade away
it'll fade away
it'll fade away
it'll fade away
