There's a new generation ready for saving
Caught in a war zone the battle is raging
You have a light are you letting it shine
Dont be afraid this is your time

If you know him and want to show them
Put your hands up to the sky
If you serve him and want to love them
Put your hands up raise them high
Let the redeemed say so
If your not ashamed to let the world know
Puts hands up hands up to the sky

So now your standing on the front line
People looking to you on overy side
They are searching for answers share what you know
You have been holding on its time to let go

If you know him and want to show them
Put your hands up to the sky
If you serve him and want to love them
Put your hands up raise them high
Let the redeemed say so
If your not ashamed to let the world know
Puts hands up hands up to the sky

All of gods people (x2)
Hands to the sky
All of gods people (x3)
Hands to the sky

If you know him and want to show them
Put your hands up to the sky
If you serve him and want to love them
Put your hands up raise them high
Let the redeemed say so
If your not ashamed to let the world know
Puts hands up hands up to the sky

If you know him and want to show them
Put your hands up to the sky

If you serve him and want to love them
Put your hands up raise them high
Let the redeemed say so
If your not ashamed to let the world know
Puts hands up hands up to the sky
