

11:18

"Hazy Moon"

Visit "Hazy Moon" on MotoLyrics.com

What do you do when your life has become the calm before the storm when it leaves you feeling numb.
Then you try to find the answers with only one question, Where did the stars go?

What's the use in lying when you're not true to yourself and summer's way to soon and I can see you cryin'
with your good book on the shelf underneath a hazy moon

Why is it we find peace, in looking up at the sky the clouds, the stars, the moon will always try and pass us by but we have to remember to not float up there together when what's important is down below, looking right back up at it...

What's the use in lying
when you're not true to yourself
and summer's way to soon
and I can see you cryin'
with your good book on the shelf
underneath a hazy moon

Trees will always fall, branches sometimes break but here is where we'll be safe sittin' on the deck we made.

Visit 11:18 page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.