i wish I could just give you everything you need but take my dignity from me won't make it better i know we're numb too bad it has to be this way

'cause I'd sing a pretty song to you to make it better

indulge in conversation you might learn a lesson 'cause everything you see could one day ever cease to be indulge in happy thoughts it could lead to happy endings i know it's true nothing is so kind to let you realize that one day you and I could settle down and get better

waste your time on me and steal everything from me you'd steal everything from me to get better come on over

make it tonight
pull up a chair
shall we salk of honest rapture don't think too hard but don't relax your mind you know what you'd like to say and I know what you need
