Turn those headlights off and lets not make a sound.
Whisper in my ear how much you want me around. If you wanted to tell me how much you would miss me when Im gone. Now would be the time. This could be the perfect love song if I wrote this song for someone else. This could be the perfect love song if I cared how you felt. You say its all my fault that you spend your nights alone, cause every time you called me I was never home. Well maybe Im with your best friend laughing at your imperfections or the stupid things youve said. This could be the perfect love song if I wrote this song for someone else. This could be the perfect love song if I cared how you felt. If you wanted to kill me slowly, tell me youll be mine forever. If you wanted to kill me slowly, we could spend our lives together. Ive been waiting, just kill yourself so I can move on. No more wasting time. Ill cut your throat so you wont sing along. This could be the perfect love song if I wrote this song for someone else. This could be the perfect love song if I cared how you felt
