Left me standing on the dancefloor
You went with someone just like you
And still the music keeps on playing
Guess the DJ hates me too

I didn't wanna go out in the first place
So you played your guilt on me
How I never take you anywhere anymore
Can't even remember the last time when
So I gave you what you want like I do all the time
And it comes back in my face like it does all the time

'Cause I am a loser, I traded my mind for love
You said forever, but now it's gone gone gone
I am a loser, I gave out my heart to you
But you left it bleeding, and the music just goes on

Then you left me standing on the dancefloor
You went with someone you just met
But still my pulse, it kept on beating
Broken hearts never forget

I am a loser, I traded my mind for love
You said forever, but now it's gone gone gone
I am a loser, I gave out my heart to you
But you left it bleeding, and the music still goes on

I know what you've done,
I fought the fight, but you're on the run
I know what you've done
You took the easy way, but it catches up
Just wait and see, just wait and see

You are a loser, you traded one love for the next
You think forever, but it won't last, oh no
'Cause you are a loser, you gave out your heart too soon
And when it is bleeding, my music still goes on
