Push it away

The world looks red

People with fish eyes

The ground sucks

Walk on my fingertips

Displacing the fog

The weight of my body

is too much to bear

The memory drained

the life from the dull

An ocean of insects

worked like a sheet

the immovable fact

Buried my mind

in a horse-hair coat

in a pile

on the floor

Push it away

The world looks red

People with fish eyes

The ground sucks

Walk on my fingertips

Displacing the fog

The weight of my body

Is too much to bear

The memory drained

The life from the doll

The ocean of insects

Moved like a sheet

The immovable fact

Buried my mind

In a horsehair coat

In a pile

On the floor
