You're always walking down the riverside and you're thinking about all the things make you feel confused you think that you're not satisfied and that all the sorrows of the world are running to you feeling empty, now and that feeling doesn't leave you and it makes you feel so blue everything's so low and you keep on looking for something that makes you feel better you guess you belong to the sad souls and you've already lost your ability of dreaming you think...

You just need someone to get you started who says that you are fine who says that you are nice
who takes you by the hand and who says that he's your friend you're feeling as if you have just been born and you're thinking that you are able to reach all aims you have you feel that you are off the ground don't wanna come down 'cause the joy is running to you feeling satisfied

and that feeling doesn't leave you
and it makes you feel so good everything's alright and you keep on holding the one that makes you feel better

Ref.

There's somebody for everybody
you just have to open your eyes
