I try to train, I try to going out and coming back again I try to rude, but the wheels are no solution just a constant revolution my heart miss carry and touch her happy..

Chorus:

Growing on, this a grand pie so looking so I'm dope and if it's true, I wouldn't mind if I was going there with you but this set of her name, rules me more than any highway
can't escape from going my way so where I'm bound in somewhere else again.

No she don't.. dance in tear feet fall for the floor promenade. every part there's a distraction now keeping in from satisfaction I'm still thinking of your random music face

Chorus:

Growing on, this a grand pie so looking so I'm dope
you
but this set of her name, rules me more than any
highway
can't escape from going my way
so where I'm bound in somewhere else again.

Growing on, this a grand pie so looking so I'm dope
you

I'm going insane, tryin to figure out why you left me but bitter town my soul is empty I am comfort to you.. or my heart start to your memory so where I'm bound in somewhere else again
