As evening clouds drift over Eval
And fading colours leave the land
And human homes lie stilled in sleep
I'll be there where you stand
I'll be there where you stand

Long ago she knew someone who told her
All the things she'd done in life
Now she's waiting in the morning fields
Ready for the light
Ready for the light

Some say love is an illusion
Some say love tears us apart
But love was all that we could share
In the beating of the heart
The beating of the heart
