All that I got
My perception
Lost connection
All that I got
My perception

Well I've seen the guards
Standing on the side of the road
Leading us to another city
Don't know if we'll ever see the sun again

And my sweet love, dead beasts don't look pretty
So close your eyes behind the window
I see your tears dancing in the sky

And it's all that I got
My perception
Lost connection
All that I got
My perception

Forget the city
The wood is where your soul lives
Between the leaves, the wolves and pigs
The only place where humans cannot hide

Let's make history
Run together into the future
Till we reach our last bed
And go to sleep while the candles are still burning

And it's all that I got
My perception
Lost connection
All that I got
My perception

My perception lost connection
My perception a new dimension
My perception lost connection
My perception...

All that I got
My perception
Lost connection
All that I got
My perception

Yeah it's all that I got
My perception
New dimension
All that I got
My perception
