lets get our volume back so where were you last night?
I'll follow you around this gothic town again as the tidal whisper pulls us under.
we'll swim so blind and follow all our senses there we'll find the new riot central with the moon on my back I can find where I'm meant to go
I dined with creatures you'd never want to see.
With my sentence repeating...
"Can you please pass the light? I'm blind" lets get our volume back now so where were you last night? while I was waiting under water?
Its taking all I have to start again as I fell wide asleep I could barely breathe your name
