Song by Heather Nova & Graeme Revell

Where the silence falls, there the river runs deep
Where the shadow ends, so begins the dream
Where the hunger leads me, it's hard to believe
I'll be lost in/to you

It's the blood that ties, it's the hurt that heals
It's the face you hide, hides the pain you feel
So hold me up now, yeah, I'm afraid to breathe
And I'm lost in/to you, yeah, (I'm) lost in/to you

I believe in a heaven, I believe in the night
I believe there's a path we/to follow, I believe in the light
Part of you is the devil, part of you is the light
You're/I'm gonna fly through the city of angels
Hold me under, let the river wash away my sins
Let me drown in/and you, let the water and the love rush you
You can hear me whisper when you're listening
And I'm lost in/to you, yeah, (I'm) lost in/to you

I believe in a heaven, I believe in the night
I believe there's a path we/to follow, I believe in the
Part of you is the devil, part of you is the light
You're/I'm gonna fly through the city of angels

It's the blood that ties, it's the hurt that heals
It's the face you hide, hides the pain you feel
So hold me up now, I long to believe
And I'm lost in/to you, yeah, (I'm) lost in/to you

I believe in a heaven, I believe in the night
I believe there's a path we/to follow, I believe in the
Part of you is the devil, part of you is the light
You're/I'm gonna fly through the city of angels
