Open up and let your love flow
Open up your heart and give more and more

Don't let the past stifle your future
As long as there's life, there is hope
As a flower in bloom
You gotta let your love shine thru

We're told the love of many will wax cold
Cast your bread upon the waters for
You will find it after many days
Give and it will be given to you
Good measure pressed down and shaken together
From your pocket, from your time
From your heart, and from your mind
Love is best when you give it so
