Dry your tears, don't have to walk away
Listen closely to the things I have to say
I've been around, a shadow in your life
And I've glimpsed a salve for the pain you suffer
I know the heartache. I know the shame
And I've glimpsed a salve for the pain you suffer

I've been trying to reach you
I've been trying to reach you
My head is scarred, my eyes are filled with blood
My head scarred, my purpose broken

Turn around and watch my face with awe
Then close your eyes and dwell on what you saw
If you follow me I'll turn your life around
I've glimpsed this salve a million times before

I've been trying to reach you
I've been trying to reach you
Sometimes I feel I cannot bear the torture
Sometimes I think I'm dying

Follow me. Follow me
So many people have I drawn so close to me
No better price will you find throughout this land
Remember what you saw. Remember what you saw
Follow me. Follow me
If you follow me. Follow me

I've been trying to reach you
And I'm dying to meet you
If you let me follow you, my life at your command
If you let me follow you forever
We'll dance around. We'll dance around
Forever dance around together
We'll dance around. We'll dance around
Let me dance around around with you forever
Forever
