Verse:

Everything that's come undone
In movements around the sun
It can never be undone
"theres nothing that could have..."

Hook:

a moment that forever feared
that's grasped and lost resulting in my tears

Chorus:

It happens in rotations, it happens in spheres
Futility's the captain, the captain who steers
It happens in rotations, it happens in spheres
Futility's the captain, the captain who steers

You fall and curse this stupid pain
You cry out protesting his reigns
The the saddest part is nothing can change
Everything remains the same
(The same)

Verse:

Fragements of twelve pass on Moments now forever gone
The choir's now singing your song
Never to view a new dawn
A new dawn

Hook:

A moment that's forever feared
That's grasped and lost resulting in my tears
In my tears

Chorus:

It happens in rotations, it happens in spheres
Futility's the captain, the captain who steers
It happens in rotations, it happens in spheres
Futility's the captain, the captain who steers

You fall and curse this stupid pain
You cry out protesting his reigns
The the saddest part is that nothing can change
Everything remains the same
The same
Everything remains the same
The same
