I've seen a glimpse of heaven
On those nights so long ago
Cast your bridge upon the water
Right towards us onto the shore

While it's all a long gone dream
I'm still there waiting

When I see you out there
When it's that time of the year
Bringing back the moments we shared
You don't need a reason
It's a change of the season
But I couldn't walk away
A part of me stayed
I'm still there waiting
Under the harvest moon

The nights were getting colder
I hoped your shine would never fade
But you told me it was over
You were leaving, and I cried in pain
Cried in pain

I know your still there
When it's that time of the year
Bringing back the moments we shared
You don't need a reason
It's a change of the season
But I couldn't walk away
A part of me stayed
I'm still there waiting
Under the harvest moon

They say that time will heal the pain
But when I see your face, it's all too real
Every time I look up in the sky
It makes me wanna cry after you

When it's that time of the year
Bringing back the moments we shared

You don't need a reason
It's a change of the season
But I couldn't walk away
A part of me stayed

I know your still there
When it's that time of the year
Bringing back the moments we shared
You don't need a reason
It's a change of the season
But I couldn't walk away
A part of me stayed
I'm still there waiting
I'm still there waiting
I'm still there waiting

Under the harvest moon
