Why is it that every time you fall in love your heart gets broken?

No matter what you do it always happens Just look at me and use me as an example I fell in love with a boy, he could care less, he was an ass
I was just weak,
or ignorant some may say, but I knew what went on at the creek that day We were a couple and everyone knew but you took her down to have some fun, forgetting about me

Chorus: I found out but didn't do a thing I loved you too much to confront you I knew if I did I might lose you I could not stand being alone
So we went on as if nothing had happened
Then two months later it happened again You took her down to the rocks, this time a different girl Bored and lonely I then took a walk and came to that spot, That's when I found you with her on top of you And quickly I left and acted as if I never knew Chorus

Then one day I was with your friend He told me all but I would still pretend to, not know was how I wanted it to be.
His friend got fed up and he threatened me not only me but the relationship, I hate him now that little bitch!
He told my guy that we messed around and wouldn't listen at all He just walked off, head up looking tall
I went to the room to sit and think, but instead I burst into tears
I loved you but you didn't care Two years it has been I have seen you with my friend I only pray that she has the strength that I lacked Chorus
