There's too many things I hardly doubt
I'm ever really gonna know
Many are the things to figure out
I'm thinking that I'll never know
I'll try to talk it out, talk-talk it out
But you just walk away and go
There's too many things I hardly doubt,
I'll ever really wanna know

But I know that your heart is for sale
I know that I've become once more a stranger
[repeat]

There's too many things I hardly doubt
I'm ever really gonna know
Many are the things to figure out
I'm thinking that I'll never know
I'll try to talk it out, talk-talk it out
But you just walk away and go

But I know that your heart is for sale
I know that I've become once more a stranger
[repeat]
