

Arrogant Worms "Assumption Song"

Visit "Assumption Song" on MotoLyrics.com

The was an old farmer who lived on a rock
He sat in the meddow just shaking his Fist at some boys who were down by the creek
Their feet in the water, their hands on their Marbles and play things and at half past four
There came a young maiden, she looked like a
Pretty young creature, she sat on the grass
She pulled up her dress and she showed them her
Ruffles and laces and and white fluffy duck
She said she was learning a new way to Bring up her children so they would not spit
While the boys in the barnyard were shoveling
Refuse and litter from yesterday's hunt

While the girl in the meddow was rubbing her
Eyes at the fellow down by the dock
He looked like a man with a sizable
Home in the country, with a big fence out front
If he asked her politely she'd show him her
Little pet dog who was subject to fits
And maybe she'd let him grab hold of her
Small tender hands with a movement so quick
And then she'd bend over and suck on his
Candy so tasty, made of butterscotch
And then he'd spread whipcream all over her
Cookies and pastries she had down on her shelf
If you think this is dirty you can go fuck yourself

Visit Arrogant Worms page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.