Been a change of plan
I want to wake up somewhere new
Instead of always saving my own skin
With a sleight of hand
I played this trick on everyone
It always starts with me and ends with you
So stay safe and well, and keep your heart distracted

Was the cut too soon?
Or was I indecisive?
I battle with my thoughts but I'm not sure
I remind the muse
Of the curses that she started
It's time to practise feeling like I'm cured
So stay safe and well, and keep your heart distracted

Runaway from the curses that I'm in
And sing a song for the soon departed
Staying brave take a leap of faith into the unexplored
Walk away from the faces I have seen
Have to finish what we started
Maybe one day my luck will have you walk in through the door

Been a change of plan
A change of plan
I need to feel the change in something soon
Yeah a change of plan
A change of plan
Oh how I want to wake up somewhere new

Runaway from the curses that I'm in
And sing a song for the soon departed
Staying brave take a leap of faith into the unexplored
Walk away from the faces I have seen
Have to finish what we started
Maybe one day my luck will have you walk in through the door
