"Rabbit Hole"

won't you tell me your fears? whisper close to my face hiding thoughts you don't steer maybe you can tell i'm ashamed put those hands on my shoulders let you break me again use your warmth the winter tell me that you love me in vein how i wish these words could explain it all!

how the hell did i get so bad?
damn this lisp and my cold unfiltered gums!
i guess i always envy the past now it seems so unfocused empty hearts feel no pain i won't say what i witnessed just as long as you do the same oh i bet you're a sinner speaking louder, refrain will i last this december? sad i never told you my name did you really fall down that rabbit hole? how i wish i'd known you had left!

if you ever need my help down below hold on to that heart in your chest!

damn you bitter son of mine oh you're learning from the best die an old man on your own stop haunting me
