"All The Stars"

All the ships and all the stars I see are gonna' sink
and the Captain, He left yesterday.
I don't mean to get you all exited,
it's just I have heard the answer to the end to all the
nothing.
I have learned to dig and now my house is underground
and everything I love is tucked away.
I hope that my friends don't think I'm selfish,
I have kept the answer to the end to all the nothing.
I have heard it all, and I don't believe it.
I just opened up my cellar door for the first time
in years and everything is still ok.
I hope that the captain left the light on,
I have got some questions for the man who made the
nothing.
