"New Star Over Texas"

There's a blue moon that's dancing across Texas
And somewhere there's fiddles playing faded love
And this lonesome heart of mind is growing restless
Missing more and more the one I love

Gathering bluebonnets in the springtime
It used to be your favorite time of year
Now when April rolls around I know that I'll find
How much I miss the one I held so dear

And tonight as I stare out my window
At a sight my eyes could not believe
There's a new star that's shining across Texas
Only Heaven could take away from me

Every night as I stare out my window
At a sight my eyes could not believe
There's a new star that's shining across Texas
Only Heaven could take away from me
Only Heaven could take away from me
