If you're the chosen one
How does it feel to be loved by no one?
If you're the number one
Where do you run to can you hide behind the sun?
And you hide there with your demons
And you wait for night to come

[Chorus]

They say that there's no oxygen again
You're forcing down the lies, but you always get your way
Something tells me this was all arranged
You trick me once again

They call you Lucifer
The fires are burning and you look the other way
I saw the funeral
I watch the Devil as he dances round me
But he dances with the fever, and spreads the plague of War

[Chorus]

They say that there's no oxygen again
You're forcing down the lies, but you always get your
way
Something tells me this was all arranged
You trick me once again

[Bridge]

Do you really want to drag me down
And take me to the gates of Hell?
No more dancing with the stars
I did it all for you back then
And look at me now, I'm half the prisoner
Half the man, this life is resting in your hands

[Chorus]

They say that there's no oxygen again
You're forcing down the lies, but you always get your
way
Something tells me this was all arranged

You trick me once again
