I tried to move I could not see
Yeah you had got a hold on me again
And everywhere I turned I saw your face
You made my world a pretty place back then

[Chorus]

So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?

And in the day and in the night
Nothing could equal your sight to me
And I don't know why we didn't stay
And leave it like it was supposed to be
Oh now every time that I stand still
Silences of rolling hills go by
And in them I can see your face
But I will never know that place will I?

[Chorus]

So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?

[Bridge]

Hey girl you got a hook on me
I tried to find you but I could not see
And if you ever want to come back to me, ooh
You're a strange girl you got a hook on me
The morning comes to take away this dream
But if you ever want to come back to me, ooh

[Chorus x2]

So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
So where are you now where are you now?
