I can see clearly
That you don't want me
Let's do everything
But there's no point in doing anything at all
At all

I spent a thousand years
Just trying to say hello
But you put me down, down
Tell me there's nothing I know
Yes, you're very clever
But I really think that you should fuck off

When I'm lying, just aching in my bed
You even spoil my dreams
And make me wish I'd never been born

You've only got sixty summers left to live
So why do you always take when there's so much you can give?

I know what I want to do
I know what I'm gonna do
I'm gonna dig for dirt
Dig for dirt in your goldmine
Goldmine (x2)
