What do you want me to say
When I haven't a clue?
The sun shines up in the sky and it's staring at you
Driving down Wendoly road
With your arm in the breeze The way that you cover the ground
Makes you feel so at ease

And it's all to do with who you are
It's all to do with Penis size and cars

Watching the girls on the street from the seat of your car
The pride starts to rise in your heart and you push it real hard
You sit in the back of your car as it splatters and burns
The only heart you'll break is that mother of your's

It's all to do with who you are
It's all to do with penis size and cars

Don't follow me,
I'm free

It's all to do with who you are
It's all to do with penis size and cars

Yeah it's all to do with who you are
It's all to do with Penis Size and Cars
