Hello

Can I start by forcing a couple of issues?
From the start, I am smart enough to carry this through I'll explain why I don't recognise your attempts at mapping the borders
There are none: only your residues
Basically you'll never carry it through Point out to me who to stimulate
I now know what offends
If I am supposed to educate
Who pays the dividends?

And I wanna know what happens in the end
Do I abandon all my wit and my friends?
Do I pretend that you never knew the truth
The more there is to do?

Part two

I think you'll begin to appreciate
When did you? And remember who started this debate
Your outdated sulphate incubates and disintegrates all of your candidates
To annihilate all of your family or your mates

And I wanna know what happens in the end
Do I gat lost in a myriad of trends?
Do I pretend that I never knew the truth
The more there is to do?

I must admit I saw it coming
I must admit that it's too much for one day
You must regret your total lack of sense
Keep the charm offensive coming
I'm in no rush
Keep the charm offensive coming
