I regret leaving my soul
I forgot I needed it, to feel maybe when I die
I'll just grab it real quick I'm coming right back

I regret leaving my mind I forgot I needed it, to think and maybe to keep me alive can't believe I got so far with a head so empty but I still have eyes

wait for me
wait for me

but I still have feet
wait for me
wait for me

I regret leaving it all I forgot I needed God, like a big brother and maybe when I die yeah when I die
I will die escaping
I will die returning to the fold

but I still have eyes
wait for me
wait for me

but I still have feet
wait for me
wait for me

but I still have faith
if I ever had faith
wait for me
wait for me
