

Thin Dark Line "Powers Of Ten"

Visit "Powers Of Ten" on MotoLyrics.com

Nothing we have is as brilliant as the stars.
Structured spheres revolve around each other,
Never closer always pulling the push.
There's all this space between us
And its nothing compared to the distance between the stars.
Add another zero or take them all away.
Structured spheres revolve around each other;
Don't worry about changing it all.
There's all this space between us
And its nothing compared to the distance between the stars.
We're not going to change those skies.
More than just gravity binds us here together.
At least we're part of something here.
We're all part of something here.
