Sarah can you hear me I'm calling you
From the other side of your road
Our breaths are lined with cigarettes and alcohol Youve got me where you want me now let's start the show

First turn the lights off
Then next the clothes come off
We'll turn the heat up
And bring the tone down

I've done so many things in my time
But there always will be one thing
We are two worlds apart for this
Let's go back to the start again

Sarah can you hear me it's been three days
Do you wanna come out for a drive
Our eyes they burn with fire as they meet
Let's lean the seats back get up and feel free

First turn the lights off
Then next the clothes come off
We'll turn the heat up
And bring the tone down

I've done so many things in my time
But there always will be one thing
We are two worlds apart for this
Let's go back to the start again

At sunrise your eyes start to glimmer
But inside your mind starts to whisper
We played a game a game going nowhere
We're out of lives and it's time to end here
