Slow down you're moving to fast
So won't you pick your self back up
This night was meant to last
So lets not let this moment pass

I'll be the one to say
I told you so

She sang to me
In her sleep
A thousand times
But now I'm starting to find
The time
To realize
What went wrong
We'll close our eyes
And just start all over again

Come on girl lets shed some skin
And leave your conciounse at the door
Those lips are so hard to resist
They leave me crawling back for more

Just close your eyes
And let me take control

She sang to me
In her sleep
A thousand times
But now I'm starting to find
The time
To realize
What went wrong
We'll close our eyes
And just start all over again

I know why
You wont try
To say goodnight

She sang to me

In her sleep
A thousand times
But now I'm starting to find
The time
To realize
What went wrong
We'll close our eyes
And just start all over again
